Aspiring and professional artists often struggle to showcase their drawing work in a way that is both visually compelling and easy to navigate. Traditional platforms may lack customization, cohesive layout options, or the ability to integrate personal branding. There is a need for a digital portfolio solution that allows artists to organize, present, and share their drawings effectively—highlighting both technical skill and creative style—while ensuring accessibility across devices and platforms. The ideal solution should support interactive features, seamless updates, and a structure that reflects the artist's unique voice.

PROBLEM STATEMENT

This project is a personal online portfolio designed to showcase your drawings in an organized, visually appealing way. Built with HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, it features custom layouts, smooth navigation, and interactive elements to highlight your creative work. It's structured for easy updates and optimized for platforms like GitHub Pages and CodePen, making it both functional and expressive.

About Me

there! I'm an artist who finds joy in every sketch, scribble, and splash of creativity. Drawing is my happy place—whether it's dreamy characters, cozy scenes, or whimsical doodles, I love bringing ideas to e line at a time. My portfolio is a peek into my imagination, where each piece is a little love letter to the art I adore 🌸💎. Thanks for stopping by—I hope my drawings make you smile as much as I smiled making them! 🐱🌟 and contact me on ig for drawing of portraits or anime drawings @lily_artist_anime
